Built with century-old stone, my house is a quaint little cottage with ivy crawling across the grey stone walls. When you walk into my house, you will feel right at home. It's always cold in the UK, so it will be a treat to see a roaring fire with my cat Alethea sleeping next to it. The walls are adorned with colourful scarves and big paintings and there's a huge plushy sofa in the living room to snooze on. The kitchen is well-equipped for home cooking and the bedrooms are furnished with king size beds and closets. All the bathrooms have been newly renovated.

The house is a ten-minute drive to a pony club nearby, where pony lovers or even inexperienced children can ride, groom horses and go on pony treks by the sea. Also nearby is Diana's Diner, a little seafood restaurant owned by Diana, a lady who also lives in this town. Breakfast, lunch and dinner are all served here under sparkling ball lights. You can play at the beach which is a mere five minute walk from my house. Children can dry off quickly at home after a fabulous day of swimming and sandcastle building.
