TREND IN KONKO — RED MASCARA!

“I wasn’t even using eyeshadow! I was using red mascara!”

REddie supports red mascara! Yesterday, Aprday, Little Red Riding Hood admitted that she had been using red mascara! It was bait o’ clock when I got the news in Manda, located in the Southern hemisphere of Fairyland. I hurried to Konko and met with Reddie, and there she was, with her red mascara! I was so shocked! It was the first reported case that anyone had been wearing coloured mascara!

Reddie first told me that she wasn’t delighted to reveal her secret, but someone accused her of using red eyeshadow. She said, “I wasn’t even using eyeshadow! I was using mascara only!” It is now known that Reddie was actually trying to wear makeup that matched her always-known nickname, “Little Red Riding Hood”.

After the news had spread, it became a trend in Konko to put on red mascara as their idol had become Reddie. She has been staying at home because she doesn’t want to be an idol to the whole town of Konko.
