Breaking news today! Humpty Dumpty fell off the wall!

Humpty Dumpty had a great fall!

Today, the most famous egg in the Kingdom of Dor was having a sun bathe up on the walls of his backyard. Just as he was enjoying the sun, he rolled off the wall and fell onto the floor. As a result, his shell cracked.

Humpty Dumpty needed someone to cure him before all his yolk leaked out! At once, he set off into the city of Dor, desperately seeking for a cure. The second he stepped into the city wall, everyone screamed in terror when they saw the yolk-leaking Humpty Dumpty. Citizens rushed into their houses and shut their windows and doors. The Kingdom of Dor was silent, except the sound of yolk dripping onto the floor. The only hope was to seek help from the grand palace, standing right in the middle of the kingdom, where the generous Prince Charming lived.

Using his special skills, Humpty Dumpty sneaked into the Prince's room. There sat Prince Charming reading the book. "Your majesty", Humpty Dumpty pleaded the prince for help. Without hesitation, the prince gathered the best doctors from all over the world to help him.

"I could have died if it wasn't Prince Charming who cured me. I am sure he has the ability to rule the Kingdom in years to come. I have faith in him."
